Meet the Designer

Bio

Hi, I'm Kevon Senior, the creative mind behind The Design Brief. I have developed a keen eye and passion for both web development and digital graphics whilst undertaking a two (2) year Interactive Media Design program at Algonquin College. My mission is to transform your ideas into visually compelling and user-friendly digital experiences.

Design Philosophy

At The Design Brief, I believe that great design is more than just aesthetics. It's about creating meaningful experiences that will leave an everlasting effect on users. My approach is centered around understanding your unique needs and translating them into designs that are both beautiful and functional.
